

□ Accenture

As an innovative global consulting, technology and outsourcing company, Accenture desired a high-style environment designed to attract and retain young professionals. Because the latest generations place a premium on the vibe they get in the workplace, Accenture recognized that the design and layout of the workspace would be influential in attracting and retaining intelligent, talented and energetic young professionals.

The distinct white workstations, upscale private offices, modern lobby and breakroom furniture, along with a creative use of fabrics, carpet tiles and wallpaper, contribute to the high-style, yet functional environment. The end result is a workspace that features a fashionable, stylish design with an upscale flare, creating a lively and energetic work environment.

Design by Epstein Uhen Architects